

Bristol County Sheriff's Office honors "rockstar" on International Transgender Day of Visibility

"Today is International Transgender Day of Visibility, and there's no better way to celebrate than to give a big shout-out to a Bristol County Sheriff's Office rock star: Ronnie Manzone.

Ronnie is no stranger to public safety, having worked with the Fairhaven Police Department and the BCSO for decades, and recently moved back to our fleet management department after a successful tour with our policy team.

She's an inspiration to our entire staff, not just for her courage and compassion, but for the energy and positive attitude she brings day in and day out."-Bristol County Sheriff's Office.
