State Police Investigate Hit

and Run in Revere, Arrest Man for OUI

Early this morning, at approximately 2:20 a.m., calls were received of a bicyclist struck by a vehicle on Revere Beach Parkway in Revere. Callers reported the vehicle that struck the bicyclist did not stay at the scene. The vehicle reportedly fled Route 16 westbound.

Upon arrival, near 943 Revere Beach Parkway, Trooper Stephen Thomson located a bicyclist, a 56-year-old man from Winthrop, who had been struck and sustained non-life threatening injuries. The bicyclist was transported by ambulance to Mass General Hospital.

A short time later, Chelsea Police located and stopped the suspected vehicle, with the bicycle still attached to the front end, on Washington Avenue in Chelsea.

Troopers responded and after a brief investigation, identified the driver, JOSUE FLORES-OCHOA, 27, of Everett, and placed him under arrest for several offenses.

FLORES-OCHOA was charged with the following offenses;

1. OUI-Liquor
2. Leaving the scene of a personal injury crash
3. Unlicensed operation of a motor vehicle
4. Negligent operation of a motor vehicle

Jireh Swift School Dedicates

Garden to WWI Ace Baylies

Undeterred when rain clouds threatened, the entire student body of Jireh Swift Elementary School crowded into the auditorium to commemorate the centennial of their school's famous graduate, Lieutenant Frank Leaman Baylies, considered to be one of the greatest flying aces of World War I. Baylies died in aerial combat over France on June 17, 1918.

A relative and namesake of the famous flyer, Frank Baylies, age 84, spoke to the students about the Ace and thanked them and their teachers for the program and for dedicating their new schoolyard garden, to Lt. Frank L. Baylies (1895-1918). Mr. Baylies showed students the many medals and honors received by the Ace. Mr. Joseph Langlois, president of the Ft. Taber/Fort Rodman Military Association invited students to visit the group's military museum located at Fort Taber Park in the city's south end.

Sending greetings on the schoolwide project, Mayor Jon Mitchell said "Congratulations to Swift students and staff for your excellent work to honor one of New Bedford's greatest heroes, Lt. Frank Baylies. Across America and Europe this year, people are commemorating the centennial of the end of World War I, and your tribute here today is as important and as heartfelt as any that have been planned around the world.”

Principal Vitorino noted, “It is my pleasure to say that our students here at Swift demonstrate the same outstanding character traits as Lt. Frank L. Baylies: tenacity, bravery, and perseverance, and I am so proud of our students.”

Before family members and special guests, all grades participated in the program. Mrs. Michel’s and Mrs. Fernandes’ Fifth Grade classes offered a 1918 history presentation and “Life 100 Years Ago.” Mrs. Aldrich’s and Mrs. Lawrence’s Fourth Grade classes recited poetry. Mrs. Telles’ and Mrs. Souza’s Second Grade classes performed patriotic songs. And the Kindergarten and First Grade classes of Mrs. Nosul and Mrs. Dressel performed “What I Love About Swift School.”

The program concluded with the dedication of the Lt. Frank Leaman Baylies Garden by Mrs. Blanchard and Mrs. Conde’s Third Grade classes.

In closing, Principal Vitorino thanked the community donors whose generosity made the garden and the centennial celebration possible, including the Swift School PTO, the L’Heureux and Autry Families, Olde Dartmouth Farm, Mr. Jose Rivera, Donors Choose, and the many Swift School families who donated materials and plants for the vegetable and flower garden.

The Swift School Baylies Centennial Event Committee included Ms. Louise Mahoney, Ms. Lee-Ann Jupin, Ms. Joyce Spooner and Principal Tonya Vitorino.

Massachusetts State Police investigating Route 93 fatal crash

This morning at about 1:00 a.m., State Police responded to a 2 car crash on Route 93 Southbound, north of Exit 5 in Braintree which claimed the life of a Taunton woman.

Preliminary investigation by Trooper Colin McKelligan indicates that a 2003 Buick Rendezvous was traveling on Route 93 Southbound when, for reasons still under investigation, the operator lost control of the vehicle, causing it to crash into the guardrail before coming to rest in the right travel lane. The operator exited her vehicle and was standing behind it when a 2005 Nissan Altima, which was traveling southbound, struck the Buick, pushing it into the operator.

The operator and sole occupant of the Buick, a 29-year-old Taunton woman, was pronounced deceased at the scene. The operator and sole occupant of the Nissan, a 20-year-old Brockton woman, was transported to Boston Medical Center for treatment of serious injuries.

The cause of this crash remains under investigation with assistance from the State Police Collision Analysis and Reconstruction Section, Crime Scene Services Section, Troop H detectives, and Troopers assigned to the Norfolk County District Attorney's Office. No charges have been filed at this time.

The identity of the deceased is being withheld pending family notification.

New Bedford man charged with trafficking after more than 40 grams of cocaine found

Members of the New Bedford narcotics unit took 43 grams of cocaine off the street and made an arrest for trafficking following an investigation into a cocaine distribution service out of 44 Stowell St. Apt. 2.

Police executed a search warrant at the address and discovered 43.5 grams of cocaine, packaging materials, a digital scale and cash.

Rodney D. Hollis Jr., 28, of 44 Stowell St. Apt. 2, New Bedford, was charged with trafficking in cocaine. He was arrested 9:38 p.m. Thursday, June 14.

Judge Thomas McGuire held Hollis on $2,000 bail. The district attorney's office requested $10,000 bail.

His next court date is July 27.

Dominican national in New Bedford charged with dealing 350 grams fentanyl

Two Dominican nationals and one Cape Cod man were charged yesterday in federal court in Boston in connection with drug trafficking activities that resulted in seizures of over a half-kilogram of fentanyl.

Hilario Yogey Mota-Bernabel, 26, a Dominican national residing in New Bedford; Miki Michael Mota-Bernabel, 29, a Dominican national residing in Providence, R.I.; and Steven Marshall, 31, were charged in an indictment with conspiracy to distribute and possess with the intent to distribute fentanyl and possession with intent to distribute and distribution of fentanyl. The Mota-Bernabels were charged by complaint and arrested on May 22, 2018, and have been in custody since. Marshall was arrested by federal authorities yesterday, after previously being arrested and charged in state court.

According to court documents, in January and February 2018, investigators conducted surveillance of Marshall as he traveled to New Bedford to purchase fentanyl from his source of supply, Hilario Yogey Mota-Bernabel. After a fentanyl pick up on March 1, 2018, investigators stopped Marshall, searched his vehicle, and seized approximately 125 grams of fentanyl.

Court documents further allege that agents conducted four controlled purchases, of approximately 100 grams of fentanyl each from Hilario Yogey Mota-Bernabel in March and April 2018.

For one of the controlled purchases, Miki Michael Mota-Bernabel served as the courier, delivering over 100 grams of fentanyl to an undercover agent. Hilario Yogey Mota-Bernabel personally delivered the fentanyl on another occasion.

A search of Hilario Yogey Mota-Bernabel's residence and stash house resulted in the seizure of over 350 grams of suspected fentanyl, $12,395 and other drug-related paraphernalia. Court documents also indicate the Mota-Bernabels entered the United States illegally.

The charge of conspiracy provides for a sentence of no greater than 20 years in prison, a minimum of three years and up to a lifetime of supervised release, and a fine of up to $1 million. The charge of possession with intent to distribute and distribution of controlled substances provides for a sentence of no greater than 20 years in prison, a minimum of three years and up to a lifetime of supervised release, and a fine of up to $1 million. The Mota-Bernabels will be subject to deportation upon completion of their sentences. Sentences are imposed by a federal district court judge based upon the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and other statutory factors.

United States Attorney Andrew E. Lelling; Brian D. Boyle, Special Agent in Charge of the Drug Enforcement Administration, New England Field Division; and Barnstable Police Chief Paul MacDonald made the announcement today. Assistant U.S. Attorney Lauren A. Graber of Lelling's Narcotics and Money Laundering Unit is prosecuting the case.

The details contained in the charging documents are allegations. The defendants are presumed innocent unless and until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt in a court of law.

Faces Of New Bedford #158: Jenny A. Liscombe-Newman

Meet Jenny A. Liscombe-Newman, 39-year-old artist and co-owner of TL6 The Gallery. Jenny grew up in Holliston, MA and didn't realize she wanted to pursue art until a friend's mother introduced her to jewelry making in high school. She took some adult education classes to start preparing a portfolio for college and before she knew it, was a freshman at UMass Dartmouth in the Jewelry/Metalsmithing program.

She fell in love with New Bedford, deciding to make it her home after completing school. It was before her senior year that her and her best friend, Arianna Swink, made a pact to open a studio if Arianna didn't end up at the graduate school she was pursuing. Being turned off by the atmosphere of the school, Arianna stayed in New Bedford and began her journey with Jenny.

Jenny and her now business partner branded themselves under the title Tenacious Lilly, and began crafting their jewelry in a basement studio, selling their wares at home parties and consignment gift shops across the state. After outgrowing their studio, they moved into a space at The White Knight Gallery, now known as TL6 The Gallery. During the recession, the shop owners decided that they weren't going to continue operation, so Jenny and Arianna took over the shop and re-conceived it to be the gallery it is today, focused on representing local artists while continuing to carry a few hand made retail lines.

Since opening their William Street Shop, Jenny has had the pleasure of meeting so many talented local artists, even assisting 5 students with internships in the store. Not only have they taken on interns, but have helped raise money for a former artist of theirs who was going to be getting a serious medical procedure and collected animal food for a local pet shelter.

BOL0 leads to arrest of wanted 60-year old New Bedford man on interstate

crime spree

In July, 2017 the Swansea Police Department along with other departments had several vehicles broken into. Through investigation, officers identified Marcellino Alves, 60, of 97 Willis St, New Bedford, MA as the suspect. Alves was charged with these crimes and did not show up for court. Default warrants were issued for Alves.

Over the last few months Alves has been on an interstate crime spree breaking into vehicles. Alves was identified as the suspect in breaking into 6 vehicles in Swansea as well as multiple in Seekonk, Dartmouth, North Attleboro and Bristol, RI. Alves had 9 active warrants in Massachusetts and 6 in Rhode Island for his arrest and failure to appear.

“Be on the Lookout” (BOLOS) were distributed throughout the region to be on the lookout for Alves and the vehicle he was suspected of driving. On June 13 Dartmouth Police Off. Kevin DaCosta, while off-duty, spotted Alves on Rt. 195 and was able to notify area officers of the vehicles location. Detectives with the South Eastern Massachusetts Law Enforcement Counsel (SEMLEC) from Swansea, Seekonk and Mattapoisett involved in investigating these crimes were able to identify a location in New Bedford where Alves was living.

On June 14, 2018 at 10:45 am Alves was taken into custody, outside his home at 97 Willis St. in New Bedford. During the arrest officers discovered suspected stolen property from car breaks they had been investigating. Participating in the investigation were: Swansea Detective Keith Chomka and Patrolman Jared Ulak, Seekonk Detectives David Mahoney, Nicholas Peterson, Charles Mello and Mattapoisett Detective Scott Leblanc.

Alves was booked by Swansea Police and transported to Fall River District Court for arraignment.
