Three Massachusetts MS-13 Members Charged with Racketeering and Illegal Possession of Firearms

Three MS-13 members have been indicted on charges of racketeering and illegal possession of firearms and ammunition.

Nelson Cruz Rodriguez Cartagena, a/k/a "Inquieto," 24, a Salvadoran national illegally residing in Everett, was indicted on one count of conspiracy to conduct enterprise affairs through a pattern of racketeering activity, commonly referred to as RICO conspiracy. Cartagena, who was previously deported, was arrested yesterday in Everett after law enforcement determined that he had reentered the United States. Cartagena was detained following an initial appearance in federal court in Boston. In a separate indictment, Nery Rodriguez Diaz, 18, and Elmer Alfaro Hercules, 19, both Salvadoran nationals, were each charged with one count of being illegal aliens in possession of firearms and ammunition.

As alleged in court documents, MS-13 is a violent, transnational criminal organization whose branches, or "cliques," operate throughout the United States, including Massachusetts. MS-13 members are required to commit acts of violence to maintain membership and discipline within the group. Most of the MS-13 cliques in Massachusetts, including the Everett Loco Salvatrucha (ELS) clique, belonged to MS-13's East Coast Program, and that these cliques worked both independently and cooperatively to engage in criminal activity and to assist one another in avoiding detection by law enforcement.

Cartagena is alleged to be a full member, or “homeboy,” in MS-13’s Everett Loco Salvatrucha (ELS) clique. On recorded prison calls with a detained ELS clique leader, Cartagena discussed buying guns for the Everett clique, maintaining and supervising the clique’s marijuana trafficking business, the need to collect dues from clique members, the need to send money to MS-13 leaders in El Salvador due on the 13th of each month, and reporting on the clique’s day-to-day racketeering activities.

When the clique leader began to suspect that a member of the ELS clique had cooperated with law enforcement leading to his arrest, he allegedly enlisted Cartagena’s help to ferret out the informant. Cartagena provided the true names of two young Everett clique members, and the leader concluded that one of them, Jose Aguilar Villanueva, a/k/a “Fantasma,” was the clique member responsible for his arrest. Once ELS (incorrectly) identified Villanueva as an informant, members of the Everett clique, including Cartagena, allegedly met at the clique’s “destroyer house” – a residence where clique members stored knives, machetes, marijuana, and money – and met to discuss gang business and plan the murder of Villanueva. Ultimately, on the night of July 5, 2015, two young ELS probationary members, or “chequeos,” lured Villanueva into a park in Lawrence and stabbed him to death. Villanueva was 16-years-old.

Diaz and Hercules were charged in a separate indictment in connection with being illegal aliens in possession of firearms and ammunition. Specifically, on May 22, 2018, Diaz and Hercules were arrested in possession of loaded firearms in Bremen Street Park in East Boston, a location where numerous MS-13 gang members have been observed and where gang-on-gang violence frequently occurs. As Diaz was escorted to a waiting police cruiser to be transported for booking, Diaz allegedly shouted “La Mara! La Mara!” to a person in the park.

Diaz and Hercules each separately and unlawfully entered the United States in 2014 as unaccompanied minors. In April 2015, an immigration judge ordered Hercules deported in absentia. On May 11, 2017, Diaz was charged as a juvenile youthful offender with armed assault with intent to murder and assault and battery with a dangerous weapon. According to incident reports, Diaz and two other men allegedly held a juvenile victim down in a wooded area in Everett and stabbed him twenty-two times. On March 18, 2018, the case against Diaz was dismissed when the victim did not appear in court.

The charge of RICO conspiracy provides for a sentence of no greater than 20 years in prison, three years of supervised release and a fine of $250,000. The charge of being an alien in possession of a firearm and ammunition provides for a sentence of no greater than 10 years in prison, three years of supervised release and a fine of $250,000. The defendants also face deportation proceedings upon completion of any sentence imposed. Sentences are imposed by a federal district court judge based upon the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and other statutory factors.

United States Attorney Andrew E. Lelling; Harold H. Shaw; Special Agent in Charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Boston Field Division; Peter C. Fitzhugh, Special Agent in Charge of Homeland Security Investigations in Boston; Colonel Kerry A. Gilpin, Superintendent of the Massachusetts State Police; Commissioner Thomas Turco of the Massachusetts Department of Corrections; Essex County Sheriff Kevin F. Coppinger; Suffolk County Sheriff Steven W. Thompkins; Suffolk County District Attorney Daniel F. Conley; Middlesex County District Attorney Marian T. Ryan; Essex County District Attorney Jonathan Blodgett; Boston Police Commissioner William Evans; Chelsea Police Chief Brian A. Kyes; Everett Police Chief Steven A. Mazzie; Lynn Police Chief Michael Mageary; Revere Police Chief James Guido; and Somerville Police Chief David Fallon made the announcement.

The details contained in the charging documents are allegations. The defendants are presumed to be innocent unless and until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt in a court of law.

Former Mafia Boss and Associate Convicted of 1993 Murder

Francis “Cadillac” Salemme, a former boss of the New England Family of La Cosa Nostra (NELCN), and former NELCN associate Paul Weadick, were convicted on Friday by a federal jury in connection with the 1993 murder of Steven A. DiSarro.

Francis P. Salemme, 84, and Paul M. Weadick, 63, were convicted of one count of murder of a federal witness. U.S. District Court Judge Allison D. Burroughs scheduled sentencing for Sept. 13, 2018.

“Today, one of the last New England mafia bosses, Frank “Cadillac” Salemme along with an accomplice, Paul Weadick, have been brought to justice, ending a long, dark chapter in our city’s history,” said United States Attorney Andrew E. Lelling. “After many years of pain, we hope that this verdict gives Mr. DiSarro’s family some peace, knowing that the defendants have been held accountable. I would like to acknowledge the commitment of the prosecutors and investigators for bringing this case – and the other organized crimes cases that preceded it – to a successful conclusion.”

“Tragically, this case demonstrates the savagery of organized crime and the extent Salemme and Weadick were willing to go for their own self-preservation,” said Harold H. Shaw, Special Agent in Charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Boston Field Division. "Today's verdict ensures that both men will finally pay the price for killing Steven DiSarro in cold blood. They took his life in order to ensure his silence. The FBI and our law enforcement partners will continue to use every available resource to pursue criminals who attack, intimidate, retaliate, and even go as far as murdering, witnesses."

In the early 1990s, Salemme was the boss of the NELCN. At the time, DiSarro managed a South Boston night club, known as "The Channel," in which Salemme and his son, Francis P. Salemme, Jr. had a financial interest. As a federal investigation was narrowing in on the Salemmes, DiSarro's connection to the mafia boss was discovered and he was approached by federal investigators to cooperate. Knowing this, Salemme had DiSarro murdered on May 10, 1993, in Salemme's Sharon residence. Salemme, who had ordered the murder to prevent DiSarro from cooperating with law enforcement, watched as Salemme Jr. and Weadick strangled DiSarro. Salemme then ordered DiSarro's body transported to Providence, R.I. and buried. In March 2016, DiSarro's remains were recovered by federal authorities behind a mill in Providence, R.I.

In 1995 Salemme was indicted on federal racketeering charges and convicted in 1999. He was subsequently convicted of obstruction of justice in 2008 for lying to federal authorities about the murder of DiSarro. Salemme Jr. died in 1995.

The charge of murder of a federal witness provides for a sentence of life in prison. Sentences are imposed by a federal district court judge based upon the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and other statutory factors.

U.S. Attorney Lelling; Interim United States Attorney Stephen G. Dambruch for the District of Rhode Island; FBI SAC Shaw; Kerry A. Gilpin, Superintendent of the Massachusetts State

Police; and Ann C. Assumpico, Superintendent of the Rhode Island State Police, made the announcement today. Assistance was also provided by the Norfolk County District Attorney's Office and the Providence, R.I. Police Department. Assistant U.S. Attorneys Fred M. Wyshak, Jr., Chief of Lelling's Public Corruption Unit and William J. Ferland of Dambruch's Office are prosecuting the case.

Holy Family-Holy Name School Principal Cecilia Felix announces retirement

After 41 years of teaching in New Bedford, Holy Family-Holy Name School Principal Cecilia Felix announced her retirement:

“Dear Students, Teachers, Pastors, Parents, Parishioners, Volunteers, Benefactors and Friends of Holy Family Holy Name School,

I write this letter as Principal with a heavy yet grateful heart. After much prayer I will be retiring due to medical reasons as of July 1st.

It has been an honor and a blessing to have worked with the faith filled and dedicated teachers through the 41 years I have been at Holy Family Holy Name School starting first as a teacher and then serving as principal for the past 28 years. I have also worked with incredible students, dedicated parents, great pastors, supportive parishioners, wonderful volunteers, vested benefactors and treasured friends. However, what has brought me the greatest joy throughout my 41 years in Catholic education has been being a part of a child's life – recognizing each student as a child of God and fully embracing our mission of preparing each student for a life of faith, service, virtue, and academic excellence.

I am deeply grateful for the many caring and supportive people who have shared the mission of Holy Family Holy Name School. I give thanks for my supportive family without whose daily support and the grace of God I would not have been able to serve in HIS Name.

Be assured of my daily prayer for each and every one of you. I humbly ask that you pray for me in the days ahead that I may continue to “love kindness and to walk humbly with my God.” (Micah 6:8)

I am confident this new beginning will be an exciting time in the rich tradition of Holy Family Holy Name School.

Please know that each of you and Holy Family Holy Name School will remain in my prayers and heart forever.

God Bless,
Cecilia M Felix
Principal of HFHN”

crashing vehicle

On Wednesday at approximately 02:44 a.m., a Massachusetts State Police Trooper was stopped at a motor vehicle crash on Route 495 northbound in Raynham when his cruiser was nearly struck by a passing car. The Trooper activated emergency lights in an effort to stop the suspect, who was driving at speeds in excess of 100 MPH. Pursuit of the suspect vehicle was authorized by Troop D headquarters.

The suspect vehicle, a 2007 Honda Accord with a lone occupant, exited Route 495 onto Route 140 in Mansfield, continuing at a very high rate of speed.

The pursuit crossed MSP Troop jurisdictional lines into Troop H, and that Troop's headquarters seamlessly assumed command and control of the pursuit.

The suspect vehicle turned onto Chauncey Street and into an industrial park, and then turned onto Green Street at approximately 2:50 hrs. We terminated the pursuit at that time.

Several minutes later Troopers from the Foxboro Barracks and Foxboro Police responded to a motor vehicle crash on Cedar Street. Responding Troopers and officers found the Accord that had been the subject of the pursuit had crashed into a telephone pole.

The suspect, a 15-year-old Stoughton boy, was taken into custody and transported to Boston Medical Center with non-incapacitating injuries. We recovered a handgun at the scene.

The boy will face criminal charges related to the incident. State Police do not release names of juvenile arrestees.

Dartmouth man arrested for OUI – admits to eating edible marijuana

On Wednesday, June 20, at approximately 6:25 p.m., Dartmouth Police were dispatched to the area of Faunce Corner Road near Route 195 regarding an erratic operator. The described vehicle was a gray 2006 GMC Envoy.

Upon locating the vehicle on Chase Road, Officer Timothy Riley observed the vehicle swerving back and forth over the center line and operating at a high rate of speed. After getting the vehicle stopped and approaching it, Officer Riley immediately noticed that the operator appeared to be under the influence, based on his delayed actions.

30-year old Curt Robinson of Dartmouth was asked to step out of the vehicle to perform Standardized Field Sobriety Tests. Prior to performing the tests, Robison admitted that he had consumed an edible marijuana brownie earlier in the day. After failing to successfully complete the tests, Robinson was placed under arrest.

While searching Robinson, numerous items, including marijuana and suspected marijuana oils were located on his person. Robinson was subsequently charged with OUI drugs, negligent operation of a motor vehicle, speeding, and a marked lanes violation.

According to Chief Brian P. LEVESQUE "Though marijuana has been legalized, this is yet another perfect example that people need to act responsibly if they decide to consume it. Much like alcohol, if it is abused, marijuana can seriously impair one's ability to safely operate a motor vehicle".
