New Bedford – Fairhaven bridge closed to fishing vessels since snow storm

The New Bedford – Fairhaven bridge has been stuck in its current position – closed to fishing vessel traffic, but open to vehicle/foot traffic since Thursday's snow storm. The current bridge was built in 1899-1902 and has gone through several major repairs over the past few decades.

"This is yet another demonstration as to why the bridge should be replaced," stated New Bedford Mayor Jon Mitchell. "The structure was built before the automobile and the rise of New Bedford's fishing industry, and is functionally obsolete. The state needs to move forward with a new bridge before the current structure becomes a bigger problem for mariners and motorists alike."

Estimates are $50 million total to fix the bridge and $100 million or more, depending on the design selected, to replace it. Unless the state or federal government funds a replacement, fixing is the best residents can hope for.

Estimates are that the bridge will be fixed by Monday.

State Police Investigate Fatal Crash Route 195 Eastbound in Marion

This morning at approximately 7:00 a.m., troopers from the State Police Barracks in Bourne responded to a single-vehicle rollover crash that resulted in the death of the driver.

Preliminary investigation by Trooper Shawn Harris indicates that a 2014 Hyundai Velost was traveling eastbound when, for reasons still under investigation, the operator and sole occupant, Robert Xifaras, 55 from Mattapoisett, lost control of the vehicle and veered left into the median and rolled over.

The driver was determined to be deceased at the scene.

The cause of the crash remains under investigation with assistance from the State Police Collision Analysis and Reconstruction Section and Crime Scene Services Section.

State Police were assisted on scene by Marion Fire, EMS and police, the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner and MA DOT.

The left travel lane was closed for approximately 3 hours to accommodate the investigation.

OPINION: Employee Health Insurance plan shouldn't come at the expense of public employees

The following was submitted to us by Rick Porter:

"I do have a question that is not answered in your article, "Mayor Mitchell and Councillors Push To Rein In Employee Health Insurance "Budget Buster". I come at this as a taxpayer (I'm not a city employee), but I also have a long held belief that we should not solve a revenue concern on the backs of public employees. It would appear that the Mayor wants to use this 2011 state law to force the Public Employee Committee (PEC) into negotiations.

My question is this: if it is just to begin the negotiations process with no way of enacting a change in employee benefits, providers, or cost-sharing arrangement, what is the Mayor looking for to bring down costs that has the employees concerned? (there must be something) I wish the article was more balanced. In trying to form an opinion on this issue, this article only provided a "pro" argument for the mayor's position. It is important to know both sides of an issue." – Rick Porter

10 Teens Compete to Become the Next Miss New Bedford's Outstanding Teen and Win a $500 Scholarship, Saturday January 13th

On Saturday January 13th, ten young women will compete to become the next Miss New Bedford's Outstanding Teen. The pageant takes place at 6:00PM at Greater New Bedford Regional Vocational Technical High School, located at 1121 Ashley Boulevard in New Bedford.

A local preliminary competition to the Miss Massachusetts' Outstanding Teen and Miss America's Outstanding Teen scholarship programs, the pageant emphasizes scholarship and service to the community. This year's winner will receive a $500 educational scholarship, in addition to hundreds of dollars in additional prizes. Runners-up and special awards winners will also receive scholarship money and awards.

The pageant itself is a “little sister” program to the annual Miss New Bedford Pageant. Contestants compete in five stages of scored competition: a private six-minute Interview, Talent, Physical Fitness, Evening Wear, and On-Stage Question. Contestants are expected to exude confidence and drive, demonstrate academic excellence, and show a commitment to service. Each contestant has chosen her own personal 'platform,' or cause, which she will promote and advance during her year, in addition to serving as a role model for young girls in the Greater New Bedford area.

The reigning Miss New Bedford's Outstanding Teen is Jordan St. Onge, 16, from Fairhaven. During her year, Jordan made more than 115 appearances throughout the community. Her year of service was devoted to raising awareness of lung cancer, inspired by her grandmother who developed lung cancer but never smoked. Jordan has educated the community on the dangers of second hand smoke, has engaged in various efforts of the American Lung Association, and has even spoken to legislators at the State House about related bills. Jordan also represented New Bedford in the Miss Massachusetts' Outstanding Teen pageant where she placed as first runner-up.

Tickets purchased in advance are $20 for adults and $15 for children/seniors. At the door, all tickets for patrons of all ages will be a flat rate of $20. You may reserve tickets by contacting tickets@missnewbedford.org or 508-971-9564.

This year's contestants are:

Marcie Araujo, a 13-year-old seventh grader at Normandin Middle School. She will perform an innovative ballet dance for her talent, and her platform is titled, "Elderly Veterans in Need."

Emma Boudreau, a 15-year-old sophomore at Apponequet Regional High School. She will tap dance for her talent, and her platform is titled, "Arrive Alive: Promoting Safe Driving Practices."

Destiny Capellan, a 15-year-old sophomore at City on a Hill Public Charter School. She will offer a poetry reading for her talent, and her platform focuses on anti-bullying efforts and bullying awareness.

Victoria Fernandes, a 14-year-old freshman at Greater New Bedford Regional Vocational Technical High School. She will tap dance for her talent, and her platform focuses on "Pancreatic Cancer Research Funding."

Kieyana Fleming, a 14-year-old eighth grader at Normandin Middle School. She will play piano for her talent, and her platform is dedicated to raising awareness of brain tumors.

Victoria Kalisz, a 16-year-old sophomore at Fairhaven High School. She will sing for her talent, and her platform is titled, "Rise Up; Rise In Spite of Everything."

Rachel Perry, a 15-year-old sophomore at Old Rochester Regional High School. She will play the violin for her talent, and her platform is titled, "Healing Song: The Power of Music to Heal the Brain."

Erin Scott, a 15-year-old sophomore at Old Rochester Regional High School. She will sing for her talent, and her platform focuses on keeping music and art programs in schools.

Alexandra Soares, a 15-year-old sophomore at New Bedford High School. She will dance for her talent and her platform is titled, "Dance to Enhance: Creating a Better Version of Yourself Through the Performing Arts."

Abigail Souza, a 13-year-old eighth grader at All Saints Catholic School. She will sing for her talent, and her platform is titled, "Hypertension Awareness in Today's Youth: Educate, Diagnose, Conquer!"

Zeiterion presents High Powered Pulse of Japan's Yamato Drummers, Jan. 21

The Yamato Drummers travel the world with Japan's traditional Taiko drums, landing at the Zeiterion Performing Arts Center on Sunday, January 21, at 4:00 p.m. Combining riveting musicianship and high-energy movement, the troupe offers a spectacular family-family performance. Tickets range from $29 to $49 and can be purchased by calling 508-994-2900, online at Zeiterion.org, or at the Zeiterion Box Office. Group sales are available for groups of 10 or more and can be purchased by calling 508-997-5664 x123.

Named for 'the land of Yamato,' the birthplace of Japanese culture, the Yamato Drummers put their very souls into the unusual instruments with extraordinary precision and stamina.

These masters put on an extraordinary visual performance, with designed costumes and a remarkable assortment of Taiko drums made from ancient trees. Their sound evokes what the Japanese call “Tamashy,” translated as soul, spirit, and psyche – the basic elements of life. It is something that is invisible and intangible, but whose existence is certainly felt.

The troupe sets out to send audiences home after each performance with a new vitality and passion for life. As they continue to tour and perform throughout Japan and around the world, whether in concerts, classrooms, school assemblies or workshops, they cherish and uphold Yamato, the spirit of Japan. Their tour is sponsored by the Japan Foundation.

Yamato Drummers was founded in Japan’s Nara Prefecture in 1993. They have given over 2,500 performances in 51 countries and regions. Every year, Yamato tours the world for 6 to 10 months, creating and presenting original Yamato compositions and stages. As a result of this relentless tour schedule, pursued over more than 10 years, audiences around the world await their arrival every year in growing numbers, sustaining and encouraging their efforts.

The Soap Myth starring Ed Asner

Saturday, January 27, at 7 p.m.

Tickets: $18 / $36

The Soap Myth questions who has the right to write history – those people who have lived it, those who study and protect it, or those who would seek to distort its existence? This critically-acclaimed play by Jeff Cohen stars Emmy Award-winning Ed Asner and features Johanna Day, Blair Baker, and Ned Eisenberg in a staged reading directed by Pam Berlin. It's presented in association with Jewish Federation of Greater New Bedford and Burke Cohen Entertainment on International Holocaust Remembrance Day. It will be followed by a moderated Q&A Session that includes playwright Jeff Cohen.
