Did you know that to become a licensed Massachusetts salesperson, you must complete forty (40) hours of education at a Board approved real estate school such as Advantage School of Real Estate? This educational course consists of various subject matters to provide you with the knowledge to schedule your state examination. This information is crucial to successfully obtaining your license.

Once your education is complete, they will provide you with a "Candidate Handbook" which will contain verification of your completed education and information to make an appointment to take the salesperson examination with the Board's test administrator. All information to take the examination will be contained in the Candidate Handbook. Upon passing the examination you will be licensed at the test center.
