

Dartmouth Parks and Recreation seeks public's help with IDing alleged thief

"Normally, we use this page to highlight the great things going on within our park and recreation system. However, sometimes folks choose to destroy the things we work hard to achieve.

It seems that last night around 11:30pm, the gentlemen with the fancy pants helped himself to a couple of pieces of signage from Apponaganset Park. Needless to say we would like them back.

If anyone knows fancy pants please contact the Dartmouth Police or let us know so we can pass the info along." - Dartmouth Parks and Recreation.
