Dartmouth Police Department arrests man after allegedly slashing household member

"On Friday, April 2, 2021, at approximately 8:00 p.m., Dartmouth Police were dispatched to a home regarding a domestic dispute.

Upon arrival, officers learned that one of the involved parties had been slashed several times with a razor knife, the worst wound being an approximate 11" long, ¼" deep laceration.

After interviewing both the victim and other witnesses, officers arrested a 38-year-old Dartmouth man, and charged him with assault and battery with a dangerous weapon.

The victim was transported to a local hospital to have their non-life-threatening wounds treated.

In order to protect the identity of the victim, neither the names of anyone involved nor the location of the incident are being released." -Dartmouth Police Department.
