

Dartmouth Police Department seek public's help in identifying larceny suspect

"Calling all cAHs...Calling all cAHs

In association with a recent larceny at the Dartmouth Walmart, DPD is looking for some help identifying the female pushing the carriage through the entryway. The female suspect is operating the pickup truck shown in the attached pictures.

FYI for all of you CSI'ers out there: We DO NOT. I repeat, DO NOT have the capability of blowing up an image of the license plate and pushing several buttons on our keyboard that make it magically readable. In light of this, please don't feel the need to post a comment asking the question "Well, can't you just blow up the image of the license plate and push several buttons on your keyboard to make it readable?"

Thank you!
