

Dartmouth sees its second earthquake in two weeks

The area has experienced another earthquake.

According to Earthquake Track, at about 12:48 a.m., a magnitude 2.0 earthquake was felt throughout the area.

The epicenter was located at 41.540, -70.984, 8 km from Bliss Corner (5.8 miles).

Reports of shaking have been sent in by at least 37 people.

No damage has been reported.

The last local earthquake of at least 2.0 was 2 weeks ago. A 3.6 magnitude in the same vicinity, Bliss Corners, Massachusetts.

The epicenter of that earthquake was located at 41.542, -70.883, 9.2 km from Bliss Corner (5.2 miles).