Falmouth Animal Control responds to dog whose head was stick in tire

“This afternoon Falmouth Animal Control responded to a call for a dog whose head had gotten stuck in an old tire.

Once on scene, initial attempts to free Bella from the tire were unsuccessful. Falmouth Fire/Rescue were called in for assistance and after evaluation, it was determined that the tire would need to be cut in order to free Bella.

While using great care and precision the team was able to saw through the rim of Falmouth Animal Control photo.the tire to free Bella.

Thank you to the Falmouth Fire/Rescue Team for their hard work and determination!”-Falmouth Animal Control.

Falmouth Animal Control photo.

Falmouth Animal Control photo.

Falmouth Animal Control photo.