

UPDATE: Family seeks public's help in locating missing Massachusetts man

UPDATE (8:45am, Sunday): "Max has been found! He is safe. Thank you all so much for helping!" -Tuesday Desrocher.

Original article:

"Our son Maxwell Bethoney is missing. He was last seen on Tuesday in Plympton, Massachusetts. Max is a suicide risk.

Max is driving a dark blue Toyota Tacoma with the license plate 1LYX66. He has also been seen at Study Hall 101 in Kingston. He has friends in the Fall River area as well as Westport and Plymouth.

Our family has already lost one son. We cannot lose another. Please, if you have seen him or have any information about his whereabouts call me at 508-287-5606 or message me on Facebook.

He was last heard from by his Fiancé Laura last night. He told her he was on the side of the road broken down and hung up quickly. His plates were run in Plymouth last night as well. The Plympton police have put out a BOLD. Please share this. Thank you ?." -Tuesday Desrochers.

UPDATE (9:00am Saturday):

"There Is still no word from Max or his whereabouts. I just spoke with the officer who is working on his case. We are trying desperately to get his phone pinged . Unfortunately this is a very long process. I appreciate everyone's prayers.

Please share again and again and again. I will update this throughout the day. I'm praying that my next update will say that we have heard from him and that he is safe. Again Maxwell Bethoney last seen on Tuesday in Plympton Massachusetts. Last heard from on Thursday evening broken down somewhere."
