

First case of coronavirus hits Bristol County

Here are the coronavirus numbers by county in Massachusetts as of Saturday, March 14. There is now one case in Bristol County, but the exact location has not been reported.

Out of 138 total cases, 104 are from a Biogen meeting in Cambridge held in late February. Of the 138 cases, only 11 needed to be hospitalized.

Source: Massachusetts Public Health.