Freetown Fire Department responds to County Road for horse needing assistance

"Just before 4 PM on Friday, the Freetown Fire Department and Bristol County Technical Rescue Team were called to respond to County Road for a Horse needing assistance.

They were assisted by a local Contractor with an Excavator. The operation was successful and "Red" was able to walk around the yard once he was back on his feet.

The Bristol County Technical Rescue Team is a group of highly trained and equipped Firefighters from Departments across Bristol County. Large Animal rescue is just a small part of their capabilities.

Freetown has 4 Firefighters that are members of the team."- Freetown Fire Department.
