

First time homebuyer? New Bedford event offers down payment assistance, FHA-backed loans, more

First-time homebuyer? You might want to attend this first-time homebuyer “house party” event at the Andrea McCoy Rec Center in New Bedford! The event will be on Wednesday, September 20th, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. and the address is 181 Hillman Street.

Individuals and families are being encouraged to attend to familiarize themselves with the many resources being made available, including housing counseling, financial education, down payment assistance, and FHA-backed loans.

This event will be hosted by Mayor Jon Mitchell, other elected officials, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development New England Regional Administrator Juana Matias, the City’s Office of Housing and Community Development Director Joshua Amaral, housing counseling agencies, and state housing partners.

There is no pre registration required and the event is free!

Want to buy a house?

SEP
20

5 PM
7 PM

Andrea McCoy Recreation Center
181 Hillman Street

Free Event | No Pre-Registration Required | Multiple Languages

Learn about resources available to assist first-time homebuyers

Meet with mortgage lenders and get pre-qualified

Talk with counselors and sign up for first-time homebuyer class

For more information, call the NB Office of Housing & Community Development at 508-979-1500

