

Horta's Restaurant in New Bedford is closing its doors

In a Facebook posting this afternoon the restaurant announced that today would be their last day and invited folks to come down for a last meal. No reason for the sudden closing was given.

Horta's had a fine reputation for quality food at a very affordable price and was a beloved local place where you could always get an excellent piece of fish. This is a developing story.

Horta's is located at 68 Cove Rd. in New Bedford, if you were a fan stop in tonight and wish them well.
