Local to make professional boxing debut on Perez-Maura III card at Mohegan Sun

Head to Mohegan Sun on January 17th to support one of New Bedford's own!

Local Briam Granado will make his professional debut on January 17th at Mohegan Sun on the Perez-Maura undercard. Born in Puerto Rico, but raised in New Bedford having moved here at 3 years of age, Granado is currently the owner and head coach of All Out Fitness. He will be representing New Bedford against Willie Carville (1-0) of Lewiston, Maine.

An alumni of New Bedford High School, Granado is a local celebrity of sorts with his high-energy fitness routines and inspirational and highly motivated coaching.

More information about the full card can be found here and tickets can be purchased here.
