

Massachusetts Environmental Police welcome aboard two new officers

The Massachusetts Environmental Police would like to welcome aboard our newest Environmental Police Officers!

Officers successfully completed a rigorous 6-month training program, which culminated with today's graduation at the Brockton Rox Stadium. Once on the job, Officers will participate in extensive specialized training to equip them for their roles as Environmental Police Officers.

Congratulations and best of luck, we look forward to having you join us in the field!