

Massachusetts Gov. Baker, elementary school students help stock trout in state waters

“Governor Charlie Baker and students from John F. Kennedy Elementary School helped us stock more than 1,000 trout in Jamaica Pond in Boston!

2022 spring stocking is underway! Stocking in southeastern waters began in early March with other regions of the state following soon after as weather conditions allow.

The red dots on the map below indicate waters that will be stocked this spring. Red dots will turn to black push-pins to show where trout have been stocked. Don't forget your fishing license—buy online at MassFishHunt

How it works

If you are looking for stocking information for a particular waterbody or town, use the table. Type the name of the waterbody or town into the search window to find all stocking reports for that location. You can also use the table to sort based on an attribute including town, waterbody, or type of fish.

Use the map to zoom and pan to different regions of the state and discover new destinations for fishing. Zoom to the area you want to explore and then click on an icon for more information on that location. Stocking locations on streams are accurate, but fish swim, so be sure to investigate other reaches of the stream as well.

If you prefer, you can get a list of all waters that will be stocked this year.

Note: The stocking report is subject to change depending on staffing, equipment, and weather conditions.*
