

Massachusetts State Police honor fallen officers at Washington D.C. candlelight vigil

“Scenes from last night’s Candlelight Vigil at the National Law Enforcement Memorial in Washington, D.C., honoring those police officers who gave the full measure of devotion in service to the public they are sworn to protect.

Seen here are members of the families of Trooper Thomas Devlin and Metropolitan Police Officer Harold MacGilvray, along with Colonel Christopher Mason and numerous Department members.

May God Bless Trooper Devlin, Officer MacGilvray, Metropolitan Police Sergeant Harold Collins, and all other law enforcement officers who are being honored in the capital of this great nation this week.”-Massachusetts State Police.

All photos by the Massachusetts State Police:

