

Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals seeks homes for goats, emu

"Have you ever seen a more fantastic beard? ???

The MSPCA at Nevins Farm is in urgent need of adopters for more than 100 goats involved in a Law Enforcement case. The goats were seized from a Dighton, Mass. property in January, along with an adult mustang and an emu.

The goats vary in age, including more than two dozen baby goats that were born following the wintertime seizure. Because of exposure to common diseases in their previous home, they must be the only ruminants in their adoptive homes, or be housed separate from other ruminants.

Interested adopters can apply at mspca.org/goats."
