

Massachusetts State Police says farewell to Sgt. White and Lt. Burke

"End of an era on the Massachusetts State Police.

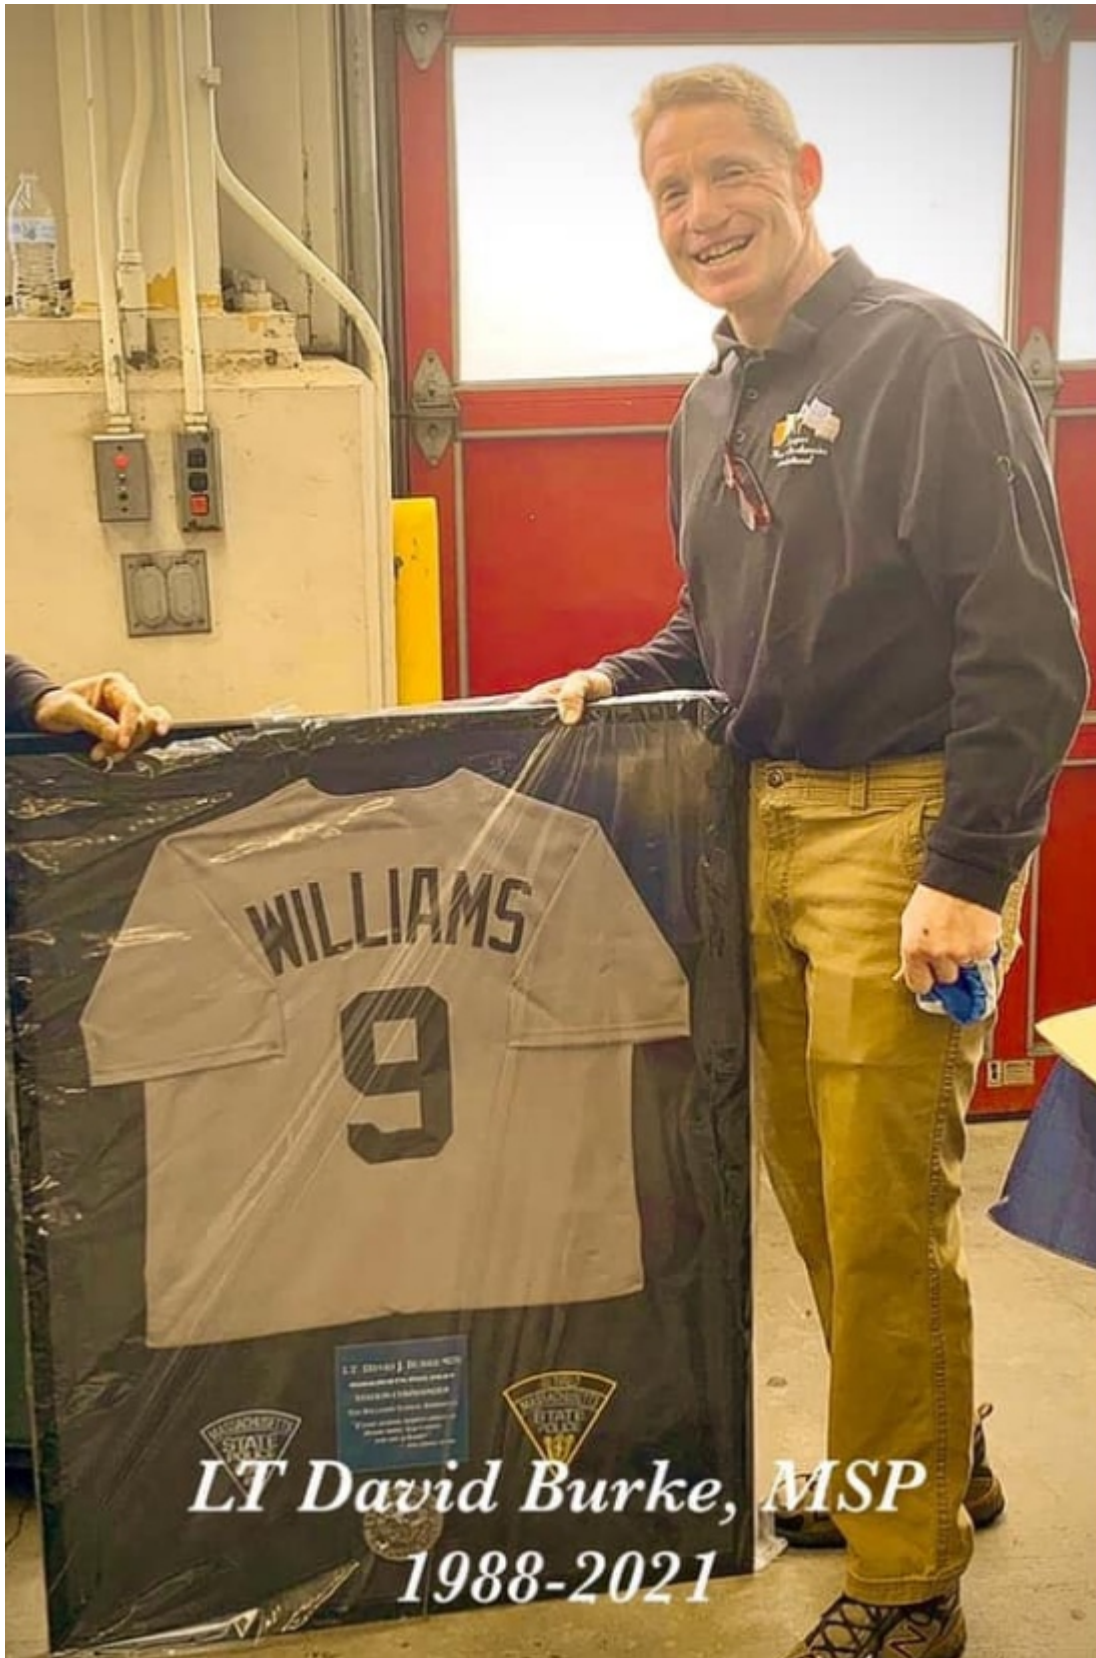

This month we say farewell to Sergeant James White (left) and Lieutenant Dave Burke (right) who have served the Commonwealth for 38 years and 33 years, respectively.

These two gentleman performed magnificently in a variety of different positions such Field Services, Detectives, and Violent Fugitive Apprehension. They ended their distinguished careers serving the citizens of Troop H.

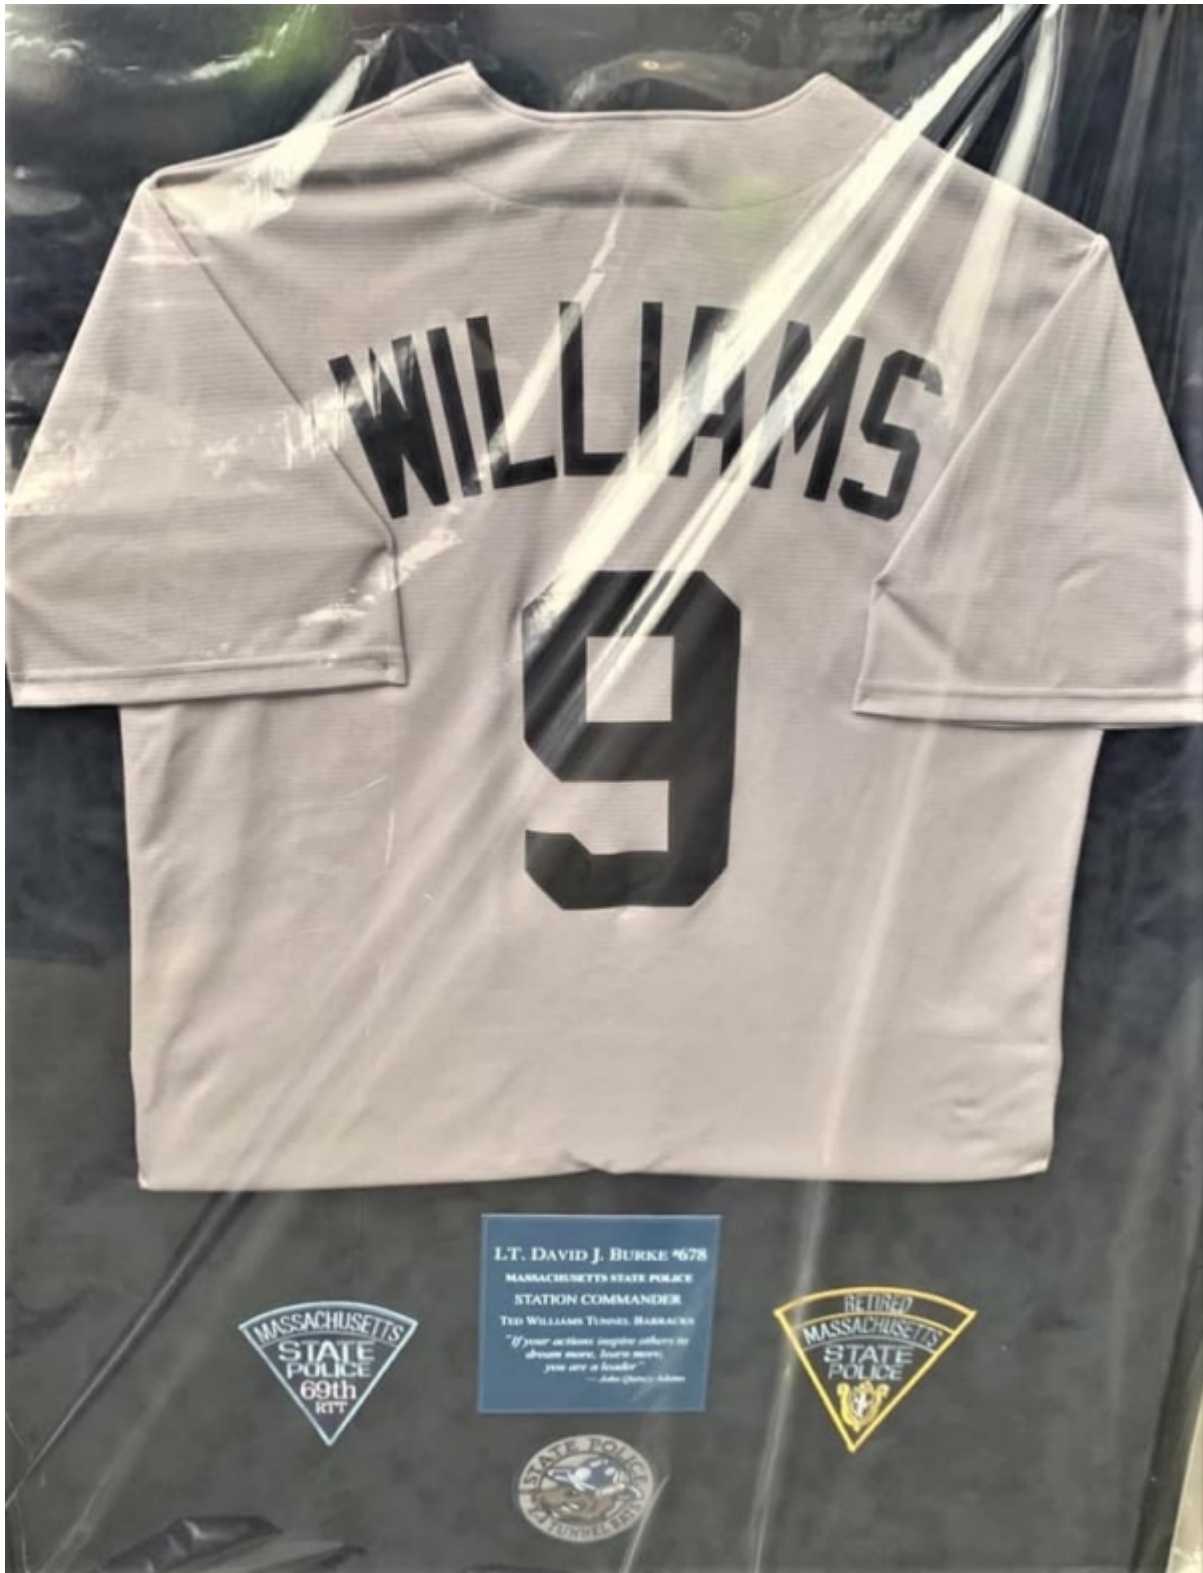

We wish them well on their much deserved retirements!"-
