

Massachusetts State Police Trooper retires after 38-years of service

Pictured above is David Sweeney, who is retiring this week after over 38 years of outstanding service to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. David served as the First Assistant Clerk-Magistrate of the Salem District Court.

Pictured presenting Mr. Sweeney with a Massachusetts State Police Patch Clock is Sergeant Byron Rizos of the Danvers Barracks. On behalf of the Massachusetts State Police, in appreciation for his hard work, dedication, and assistance to the MSP over the years. The clock is custom-made by a retired Maine State Trooper.

Thank you Clerk Sweeney for all that you have done for the Commonwealth! Enjoy retirement.”-Massachusetts State Police.
