

Massachusetts State Police Trooper Arredondo retires after 29 years of service to community

"Congratulations to Trooper Elkin Arredondo (left) upon his retirement from the Massachusetts State Police after 29 years of service.

Trooper Arredondo was a graduate of the 71st Recruit Training Troop and among his assignments, served in the Gang Unit and the Air Wing. Best wishes Elkin.

Congratulating him here is Lieutenant Colonel Jack Mawn, Commander of the Division of Investigative Services." - Massachusetts State Police.

Massachusetts State Police photo.