

Woman victim of money order fraud in New Bedford

According to the New Bedford Police, a woman reported being scammed at local bank. She explained that she was approached by another female who told her she had a money order for $511 and couldn't cash it because she'd left her bank card at home. Victim agreed to give her $286 for money order, only to learn later it was fraudulent. Police have suspect and are investigating.