

New Bedford Farmer's Markets opening soon

Three days a week, the New Bedford Farmer's Markets offer fresh local produce.

It's almost time for the opening of the New Bedford Farmer's Markets. A new location downtown has been added on Thursdays at Custom House Square, where customers will be able to purchase vegetables, meat, eggs, fish, and baked goods from a variety of vendors. New this year, customers will be able to use Mastercard, VISA, and SNAP benefits instead of just cash. Times and locations are listed below.

Brooklawn Park, Mondays 2-6pm opens June 15

Custom House Square, Thursdays 2-6pm opens June 18th

Clasky Common, Saturdays 9am-1pm opens July 11
