

New Bedford Glass Museum Holiday Gala

The New Bedford Museum of Glass will host a “Carol of the Bells” Holiday Gala and silent-auction fundraiser on Saturday evening, December 8th, from 6 to 9 PM. The festive evening will feature live music by pianist John Nicolaci, wine, light refreshments and admission to the museum galleries, located at 61 Wamsutta Street in a renovated factory building shared with the New Bedford Antiques Center. Tickets cost $10 in advance and $15 at the door, and the general public is invited.

The main event of the evening will be a silent auction of beautiful glass bells created and donated exclusively for the fundraiser by artists Michael Magyar, Christopher Belleau, Billy Mayer, Andrew Hicks, Spencer Lariviere-Werner and Jack Loranger. Also featured in the auction will be collectible glass bells donated by museum member Al Trinidad, author of four important books on the subject. Proceeds from the evening will help to support the glass museum and its educational programming. The bells are currently on view at the New Bedford Antiques Center.

For more information or to reserve tickets to the “Carol of the Bells” Holiday Gala, please visit the museum online at www.nbmog.org or call 508-984-1666.

