

New Bedford school introduces cell phone lockers to stop phone use among students

Alma del Mar Charter School in New Bedford is taking a new approach to prevent students from using phones in the classroom. In the new cell phone policy, students who bring a phone to school must turn it off immediately upon entering the school building. They also are required to store the cell phone in a school provided locker.

All cell phone use, including texting, phone calls, taking photo/video, and social media use, is prohibited during school hours and while on school grounds. Cell phone use is also prohibited during after school activities.

What do you think? Is this a good idea? Cell phones have not only caused a major distraction for students, but it also makes it extremely easy to cheat on exams. The kids might not like it, but I think this will help them in the long run!
