

New Bedford sees 40% voter turnout for 2018 midterm elections

According to New Bedford Elections Commissioner Manuel Debrito, 23,723 of the 58,220 New Bedford registered voters participated in the elections on Tuesday. That's a 40% voter turnout and up from 25% in 2017 when 14,098 New Bedford residents voted.

The following provides how people in New Bedford voted in the 2018 mid-term elections:

DOC110618-002