

Police Release New Photo of Everett Murder Suspect on Most Wanted List

The Massachusetts State Police today released a new photograph of the suspect wanted in the murder of an Everett man. The new photograph of fugitive DAVID M. GROSSACK (left), from December 2016, is more recent than the photograph of him on his wanted poster.

The State Police Violent Fugitive Apprehension Section yesterday added GROSSACK, wanted for the homicide of Francis Brescia in Everett, to the department's list of Most Wanted fugitives.

GROSSACK, 47, is wanted by the State Police Detective Unit for Middlesex County and Everett Police for the murder. He is white, 6'2" tall, 175 pounds with a thin build, with brown hair and hazel eyes. He has a tattoo on the back of his left hand, near the knuckle of his index finger. GROSSACK is believed to be homeless and has frequented shelters in Boston, Lynn, and Salem. He additionally has past ties to Saugus, Beverly, and Norton. He may have access to weapons.

In addition to the warrant for Mr. Brescia's murder, GROSSACK is the subject of additional warrants in Massachusetts for unrelated charges. He has a lengthy criminal history, including convictions in Massachusetts and California for crimes ranging from assault and battery, domestic abuse, carrying a dangerous weapon, breaking and entering, and lewd conduct.

Mr. Brescia was found dead in his apartment on Saturday, Feb. 25. His death has been ruled a homicide by the state Medical Examiner.

Anyone who sees GROSSACK or has information on his whereabouts is urged to immediately call the State Police Violent Fugitive Apprehension Section at 1-800-KAPTURE (1-800-527-8873).
