

Search Ongoing After Personal Items Found Near Charles River

Massachusetts State Police are attempting to locate TAMIKA DANIELLE JEUNE, seen in this photo, a missing person. Ms. JEUNE is 26, lives on Beacon Street in Boston, and is from Dorchester. She is black, relatively tall, with a slender build. Ms. JEUNE attends Boston University School of Law. Anyone who sees her or has information about her is urged to call Massachusetts State Police detectives at 617-740-7544 or State Police Communications at 508-820-2121.

State Police are searching the Charles River near Boston University and the surrounding area after several personal items belonging to a young woman were found by the river overnight. The young woman is a BU student and she was not located at her dormitory or her home. At this time there is no reason to believe the young woman entered the river but Troop H and our Marine Unit is conducting a search given that she has not yet been located and the proximity of the personal items to the river. Will provide updates when available.
