

49-year old Shrewsbury woman dies after collision with school bus

“On Thursday, September 15, 2022, at approximately 1055 AM, the Shrewsbury Police Department along with the Shrewsbury Fire Department and UMass Paramedics responded to South Quinsigamond Ave at May St for a serious motor vehicle crash.

The accident involved a School Bus and a passenger vehicle. First responders on the scene quickly determined that there were no students on the bus, but that the driver and an aide were complaining of injuries. The driver and lone occupant of the passenger vehicle, a 49-year-old Shrewsbury woman, had sustained more serious injuries. The operator of the passenger vehicle was transported to UMass Memorial Medical Center, where she succumbed to her injuries a short time later.

The crash is being actively investigated by officers of the Shrewsbury Police Department along with members of the Central Massachusetts Law Enforcement Council (CEMLEC) Crash Recon Team and the Office of Worcester County District Attorney Joseph D. Early, Jr.”
