

State, Revere Police Investigating Suspicious Death

Revere Police and State Police homicide detectives assigned to the Suffolk County District Attorney's office are investigating the death of an adult female inside a Grand View Avenue residence.

The woman, whose name is not being released tonight while family notifications are made, was found deceased in the home late this afternoon. A preliminary examination at the scene revealed signs of trauma. The Office of the Chief Medical Examiner will determine the cause and manner of her death.

Revere Police detectives assigned to the Criminal Investigation Division are working with members of the Suffolk County State Police Detective Unit, which has jurisdiction over death investigations in Chelsea, Revere, Winthrop, and State property within the City of Boston. They are supported by the State Police Crime Scene Services Section, uniformed troopers, and other State Police assets.

Anyone with information on the woman's death, or who made observations in the area of Grand View Avenue through the day today, is asked to contact Revere Police at 781-286-8340 or State Police at 617-727-8817.
