

National Park's Story Hour on Break – No sessions December 26 nor January 1

Whales, Tales and Sails, New Bedford Whaling National Historical Park's weekly story hour, will be on a holiday break for two weeks. There will be no sessions on Friday, December 26, nor on Friday, January 2. The free weekly story hour returns at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, January 9, with the theme of The Sea. It is geared to children ages 0-5, features professional storyteller Jackson Gillman, and offers songs, stories, and crafts. It takes place at New Bedford Whaling National Park Visitor Center, 33 William Street, downtown New Bedford.
