

The New Bedford Dating Game (24 Feb)

On February 24th, from 9-11 P.M., New Bedford Guide and the Candleworks Restaurant (72 N Water St, New Bedford) team up to bring you The Dating Game. Hosted by WBSM's Phil Paleologos, this will be the perfect event for singles to participate in, and for couples to come watch and enjoy the show.

Here's how The Dating Game works: A bachelorette asks questions, written in advance on cards, to three hidden bachelors. The same question is asked to all the bachelors until time runs out. The bachelorette then makes her choice based solely on the answers to her questions. This process is then reversed, with one bachelor and three bachelorettes. The couple then goes on an instant date with food provided by The Candleworks Restaurant. There will also be trivia throughout the night, with correct answers earning free gift cards.

We are looking for 16 bachelorettes/bachelors to participate in this contest. To be considered, please send an e-mail to: info@newbedfordguide.com, with at least two photos of yourself and a brief paragraph on why you would make a good participant in The Dating Game. Check out the event on Facebook and invite your friends!

Pictures from our last Dating Game , which took place at The Catwalk Bar and Grille on January 27, 2011, can be viewed below.
