

The New Bedford Dating Game

2011 is the perfect year to find love! From 9-11 P.M. on January 27th, New Bedford Guide and Catwalk Bar and Grille team up to bring you The Dating Game, hosted by WBSM's Phil Paleologos. We are looking for 16 bachelorettes/bachelors to participate in this contest. People already in a relationship should come by and enjoy the show. This will be a PERFECT date night!

Here's how The Dating Game works: A bachelorette asks questions, written in advance on cards, to three hidden bachelors. The same question is asked to multiple bachelors until time runs out. The bachelorette makes her choice based solely on the answers to her questions. This process is then reversed, with one bachelor and three bachelorettes. The couple then goes on an instant date with food provided by The Candleworks Restaurant.

Potential contestants are asked to become a fan of the New Bedford Guide Facebook page and post a reply to our Dating Game Discussion Thread with an answer to the question: Why you want to be on the show? Contestants can also send an e-mail to info@newbedfordguide.com with at least two photos and a brief paragraph on why you would make a good participant in

The Dating Game.
