

UPDATE: Attleboro Homicide Probe Continues

Attleboro Police, Massachusetts State Police detectives assigned to the district attorney's office and Homicide Unit prosecutors continue to actively investigating a homicide, which took place in the City of Attleboro Friday afternoon.

Attleboro Police received multiple 911 calls around 3:55 p.m. Friday in regards to a commotion at 6 Leroy Street. When first responders arrived on scene, they located a female bleeding profusely. She was the victim of an apparent stabbing.

The victim, later identified as Kimberly Duphily, 28, of Attleboro, was rushed to Sturdy Memorial Hospital in Attleboro, where she was later pronounced deceased.

□A 20-year-old woman also injured during the incident was treated for minor injuries last night at Sturdy Memorial Hospital, and has since been released.

Despite some initial media reports, there is not another victim in critical condition, nor is there a person of interest in custody at this time. As the investigation is extremely active and fluid at this time, no further information can be released.
