

[WATCH] Yet another car accident at notorious New Bedford intersection

Some of the narrow and dense one-way streets in New Bedford are notoriously known for cars not stopping at stop signs. The intersection of Mill Street and Liberty Street seems to be one of those areas. An anonymous user sent in video capturing an accident at the intersection which occurred due to a vehicle neglecting to stop at a stop sign.

“Can we please start paying attention to the stop sign at Mill & Liberty? 6 out of every 10 cars breeze straight through it, and this could have been a lot worse.”
